

If This Be Treason, Make the Most of It.

Mr. VERNON, JUNE 2.—Decorations day here was a grand success. There was nothing said by the speakers that could pain the most sensitive Southern heart. Major Evans' speech was quite a surprise, and although Prof. Dickerson is not an orator, yet his speech would read well in print. Bradley's speech was a gem of beauty. Bradley is a general patriot who loves his whole country. I am a local patriot whose love of country goes not North of Mason's and Dixon's line.

The South and the democratic party made this great country. When you take off Florida, Louisiana, Texas, California, New Mexico, Arizona, Utah, Colorado and Nevada, the Republic would not be so great and grand. And extinguish the glory of Kentucky, Tennessee and the South in the war of 1812 and with Mexico and scarcely a glint of glory would remain. They must give the South time to forget and to forgive. The destruction of dwelling and mills in the Shenandoah by Sheridan and the 60 mile swath cut by Sherman through Georgia and South Carolina, when the war was practically over, looked too much like the Goths, the Visigoths, the Huns, and the Vandals, had been there, to be soon forgotten. The gray moss of time must heal the wound. The South wants no more wars, no more secession, the South wants peace and time to forget her great wrongs.

Those who fought for liberty and State sovereignty without pay were certainly as patriotic as the well fed, well paid, and well-clad soldier who wore the blue. But still it is very kind in the speakers to extend pardon to those who never sinned and who ask no forgiveness.

The South though subjugated won an undying fame and an unending glory that will live as long as the past of Thermopylae and Leonidas and his 300 deathless Spartans who died for country; slain by Xerxes and his three millions of men. The South fought not the North alone. A foreign element as large as the rebellion army was on the side of the blue. Many German divisions could not even speak our tongue, and knew nothing, and cared less for the merits of the war, so they were on the strong paying side. After the bloody battle of Gettysburg, owing to the disparity of numbers the war was nothing but murder most cruel and bloody.

May the chain of friendship between the two sections grow so bright that a child can find it when the sun is asleep in his wigwam behind the great waters.

FOUNTAIN FOX ROBERT.

A Baby Can Do All This.

It can wear out a $1-pair of kid shoes in less than 24 hours.

It can keep its father busy advertising in the paper for a nurse.

It can simultaneously occupy both sides of the largest bed made.

It can cause its father to be insulted by every second-class boarding-house keeper in the city who "never takes children," which, in nine cases out of 10, is fortunate for the children.

It can make itself look like a fiend just when its mother wants it to show off.

It can make an old bachelor in the next room use language that if uttered on the street would get him into the penitentiary for two years.

It can go from the farthest end of the room to the foot of the stairs in the hall quicker than its mother can step into the closet and out again.

It can go asleep like an angel and just as papa and mamma are starting for the theatre it can wake up and stay awake.

These are some of the things a baby can do. But there are other things as well. A baby can make the commonest house the brightest spot on earth. It can lighten the burdens of a loving mother's life by adding to them. It can flatten its dirty face against the window pane in such a way that the tired father can see it as a picture before he rounds the corner. Yes, babies are great institutions, particularly one's own baby.

—Gen. Rosser in his speech at the unveiling of the Confederate monument at Richmond, said: "The men who over-run us remind me of the locusts which are now infesting portions of this State. They couldn't whip us, but they devoured our substance. The army that devoured us was an army of substitutes. We killed all the substitutes, and the men whom they represented stopped at home and made money, and now draw pensions."

—The stock of gold bullion in the Bank of England has reached £30,000,000 sterling, and the reserve is £28,000,000.

Who takes an eel by the tail, or a woman at her words soon finds that he holds nothing.—Proverb.

"Many of the citizens of Painesville, Ind., are never without a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house," says Jacob Brown, the leading merchant of the place. This remedy has proven of so much value for colds, croup and whooping cough in children, that few mothers who have it in their homes are willing to be without it. For sale by Dr. S. G. Hocker, Druggist, Stanford.

Some time ago I was troubled with an attack of rheumatism. I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm and was completely cured. I have since advised many of my friends and customers to try the remedy and all speak highly of it. Simon Goldbaum, San Luis Rey, Cal. For sale by Dr. S. G. Hocker, Druggist, Stanford.

CRAB ORCHARD.

—There was quite an exciting election here Saturday, it being the day to elect a new school trustee. Mr. R. H. Bronaugh was re-elected in the town district and Mr. J. H. Collier was elected in the Holmes school district.

—Decorations day was observed by the G. A. R. Post at this place. In the morning they met, marched to the cemetery and decorated the graves with flowers and in the afternoon speeches were made by Messrs. David Noakes, Dr. W. M. Doones, Will Hansford and Mrs. Kohlher of Garrard, recited a very pretty piece of poetry suitable to the occasion.

They will return Thursday bringing Miss Vessie Anderson, who has been attending the college, home with them. Dr. Dick has two sisters visiting him, one from Kansas, the other from Middleboro. —Col. J. D. Barnett, one of the foremost men of Ohio county, died at Hartford Sunday of heart failure.

—Mrs. Etta Elmore died at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. O'Hair, Saturday from the effects of an operation, which was too long delayed. She was the relict of Will Elmore, who preceded her to the tomb four years. Only 26 years old, robust and handsome, she seemed destined to long life, but she was suddenly cut down, not, however, as those without hope for she had given her heart to God when 12 years of age and was prepared for the summons. After a funeral sermon Sunday afternoon by Elder Joe Severance, Jr., a large procession of friends followed the remains to Buffalo cemetery and gently laid them to rest.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—Rev. A. V. Sizemore was made assistant secretary of the State Baptist Association in session at Carlisle.

—The heathen are dying at the rate of 40,000,000 a year, and there is only one medical missionary to every 2,000,000 of them.

—The Owensboro Messenger says there have been over 200 additions to the local churches since the Mills meeting, the result of revivals that followed it.

—Bishop S. S. Lewis, of Louisiana, has called Rev. Will O. Barnes to take charge of Christ's church at New Orleans during the four month's absence of the pastor.

—More than one-half the laborers in the Presbyterian mission field are women, the figures being 214 ministers, male lay missionaries, 42 total, 250, women, 367.

—According to the report to the Baptist association at Carlisle, there are in the State 1,490 churches and 154,503 members, whose contributions last year were $490,502.13.

—The Christian Endeavor convention at Hopkinsville resolved that only pure men should be elected to official position and protested against the return of Col. Breckinridge to Congress.

—The students in attendance at Princeton Theological Seminary the past year numbered 232, the largest in its history. Of the 4,391, who have passed through the institution, 2,579 are living.

—The churches here will hold union services Sunday nights during the summer. The first will be next Sunday night at the Methodist church and will be conducted by Rev. S. M. Logan.

—The Eubanks people know how to treat tramp preachers. They rotten egg them. The fellow, who made "merchandise of religion" here recently, was given a full shower in the other night.

—Tomorrow, Sunday, the first Young Men's Christian Association was organized and the anniversary will be observed all over the U. S. by the immense membership that has been added to the small beginning.

—The missionaries in Africa count the work of one woman worth that of 12 men, since women can go anywhere, even among the fiercest tribes. Their motives are never questioned, and they are listened to with the greatest respect.

—There are about 1,191 religious papers in the United States. Baptists have 181, Methodists 173, Roman Catholics 134, Protestant Episcopalians 76, Presbyterians 73, the Evangelical denominations 71, Lutherans 59, Congregationalists 33, undenominational 216, while the balance is distributed among about a dozen other denominations.

—This is the irreverent way Blue Grass Blade Moore speaks of a noted divine: "A dispatch says that Elder John S. Sweeney, of Paris, has been called upon to run for Congress in the event of Breckinridge's nomination. Sweeney is the sweet-scented geranium that had me put in jail. If Sweeney comes into the race I shall take the stump for Billy. Billy is pretty tough but he would not put me in jail because I do not believe in his religion."

—Rev. Sanford M. Logan was regularly installed as pastor of the Stanford Presbyterian church Sunday night, his father, Dr. J. V. Logan, propounding the questions to pastor and people, Dr. E. M. Green delivering the charge to the former and Rev. A. W. Crawford to the latter. Both charges were ably presented and listened to with interest. Mr. Logan starts his pastorate under most favorable circumstances. The membership is united on him, and having resolved to agree in the future a pleasant and profitable relation seems assured.

—If the Southern Presbyterian church is sincere in its refusal to even consider the question of organic reunion with the Northern branch, because the latter is too much given to meddling with politics, there is all the more reason for forgiving the erring brother and making at least one more organized and organic effort to convert him from the error of his ways. All the wicked world knows that the two wings were thrown into discord by the rock of slavery. That no longer exists, and there is no good and sufficient Christian reason why they should not now flop together. Dr. Breckinridge declared peace in the church impossible until the good Lord should take him to Heaven and send Dr. Robinson back to Ireland, but now that both are doubtless dwelling together in peace and brotherly love, their respective followers on earth might well emulate such a celestial example.—Louisville Times.

—Jeff Crawford, a negro murderer, was hung by a mob at Findley, S. C. The Hopkinsville Kentuckian will say this is the 50th victim of Judge Lynch so far this year.

Two Lives Saved.

Mrs. Phoebe Thomas, of Junction City, Ill., was told by her doctors she had consumption and that there was no hope for her, but two bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery completely cured her and she says it saved her life. Mr. Thos. Eggers, 739 Florida St., San Francisco, suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching consumption, tried without result everything else then bought one bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured. He is naturally thankful. It is such results of which these are samples, that prove the wonderful efficacy of this medicine in coughs and colds. Free trial bottles at A. R. Penny's Drug Store. Regular size 50c and $1.

—The bullet proof cloth which has attracted so much attention in the armies of Europe is soon to be tested by American military men. The Mannheim cloth has been tested in the presence of the Prince of Wales, several shots being fired at the inventor and without injuring him in the slightest degree. If all the armies of the world are to be clad in this bullet proof cloth, what necessity will there be for fighting at all?

If the shots fired by both sides are harmless, is what way is the result of a battle to be determined? Why not save powder and lead by declining to shoot, when no one is in danger of being hurt by the fire? Is there any evidence of courage in a soldier exposing his person in battle when his carcass is protected by bullet proof cloth? The cloth is said to be too heavy for infantry, but not for cavalry, as the poor horse has to carry the load, great or small. "Let us have peace," but if fighting can not be avoided, why not lay aside the guns and adopt the methods of Corbett and Mitchell, or take it out in tongue lashing? The politicians who want to "cuss" each other with impunity should have the exclusive right to use the bullet proof cloth.

—Among the schoolmates of your correspondent who have grown up with him in his native town, it is pleasant to know that at least four of the number have entered the gospel ministry with brilliant prospects of success and usefulness in their holy calling. Charles M. Reid, who has charge of a church near Denver, Col., is now on a visit to his father at this place and filled the pulpit the Baptist church at 11 A. M. on Sunday and preached at the union services at the Christian church at night. Lucien Noel filled the pulpit at the Presbyterian church at 11 A. M. on Sunday and delivered a discourse that was highly commended by a large congregation. R. Graham Frank has charge of several churches, while William Walden is engaged in the work of an evangelist. All of these young men Reid, Noel, Frank and Walden have the education and ability to fit them for the work to which they have devoted their lives and those who know them best are confident that their future will show that they have not mistaken their calling. Success to my boy-hood friends.

Fussy Passenger.—Why does your company insist that passengers must purchase tickets before entering the train? Are they afraid that if we pay money to you you will steal it? Conductor (with dignity)—Certainly not. They are afraid the train may run off the track before I can get around.—New York Weekly.

Those Who Are Posted.—Will tell you that the finest and healthiest summer resorts in the northwest are located along the Wisconsin Central Lines, among which are Lake Villa, Fox Lake, Antioch, Burlington, Mukwonago, Waukegan, Neenah, Waukegan, Fifeield, Ashland and Duluth. Tourists and pleasure seekers figuring on their next summer's vacation should bear this in mind and before selecting a route drop a line to Jas. C. Pond, General Passenger Agent of the Wisconsin Central Lines, at Milwaukee, Wis., and he will send you maps, time tables and guide books containing valuable information, which are mailed free upon application.

I have two little grand children who are teething this hot summer weather and are troubled with bowel complaint. I give them Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and it acts like a charm. I earnestly recommend it for children with bowel troubles. I was myself taken with a severe attack of bloody flux, with cramps and pains in my stomach, one-third of a bottle of this remedy cured me. Within 24 hours I was out of bed and doing my house work.
